This Week in ELA:

We focused on the sounds of long Oo and short Oo. We know mop is a short Oo word like "Bob the Fox" but mope is a long Oo word because the Oo "says its name" in the word. We also added little, do, she and there to the word wall. In writing workshop, we continued to write about something we know how to do. This week, we focused on concluding our stories. Our endings should "wrap up" what the book was about and invite readers to try out what we taught them!

This Week in Math:

We continued discussing subtraction. We know we take away from the whole number in a subtraction problem. We also know that the number that follows the minus sign should match how many objects we cross out. It is easy to confuse which number sentence matches the picture:

4-3=1 OR 4-1=3 O O O ~~O~~

This Week in Extra NASA:

Your student learned about the International Space Station and space shuttles. They learned how these shuttles are powered, what types of activities astronauts do on them, and had a hand in building a shuttle of their own. Email Ms. McTighe with any questions about what your child learned! ☺

Important Dates:

- 3/9 Cookie Dough Orders Due
- 3/12 Moe's Spirit Night (Beltline Blvd)
- 3/13 No School

Reminders/Announcements:

- We had a blast listening to storyteller Tim Lowry today! Ask your child his/her favorite story.
- We know the date of our zoo field trip for those who need advanced notice. We will go on Friday, May 1. Thanks so much!
- Please send in library books on Tuesday.
- We love when you come join your child for lunch! We have noticed, however, the "choosing a friend" is starting to create hurt feelings. We ask that when you come, you only dine with your own child now! Thanks for understanding. ☺

Home Talk:

We celebrated Read Across America Week with our fun dress up days and by reading so many great books you all brought in from home. We even tasted green eggs and ham to end our week! Please visit this website to see the National Education Association's March book recommendations and KEEP READING!
