This Week in ELA:

We continued our independent reading routines. We are continuing to read with the purpose of learning all about the world. We also learned the importance of reading from cover to cover and rereading to learn new information. In writing workshop, we learned that "when we are done we have just begun." We can usually find ways to fix up our work to make it better. We also practiced recognizing and writing letters Ii-Nn. Our shared reading focus was As I Was Walking. Our sight words this week were: I and me.

This Week in Math:

Students worked to answer "how many" questions of groups of objects in horizontal rows and vertical columns to 5. To reinforce the understanding that the last number name said tells the number of objects counted the students sorted groups of objects by count and matched to digits.

This Week in Social Studies:

We talked about who is in authority at school and in the community. We know teachers, principals, librarians, and other important adults have authority at school. We know police officers, firefighters, crossing guards, and bus drivers work to keep us safe in our communities.

Home Talk:

Ask your child why following rules is important. Give your child an example or two of a law that you must follow as an adult. Ask your child, "What might happen if I did not follow that law?"

Each week, teachers will pick a student who has done a great job being a "bucket filler," or a kind friend. This week, our bucket fillers are:
